

Industrial Packaging

High Technology of Industrial Packaging

To meet the demands for short turn-around time, low inventory and short product life cycle, Starlite is equipped with advanced machinery which is able to produce low quantity runs with quick turn-around time. Our customer service teams monitor daily production schedule and ensure that packaging products supplies are continually fed into our customers' production lines. We work with the top high technology customers in the world, offering them a variety of packaging products comprising boxes, instruction booklets and labels.