Multi-Page Labels

Innovation drives the company beyond conventional thinking and early on, quality became a key issue. It is these characteristics which have steered introduction and continued growth of new products.

The ongoing challenge is to find a solution to the specific packaging problem presented by a customer, such as too much text, too little space, an awkward container, unusual storage conditions, a fast production line or randomized winning numbers.

Fix-a-Form / Multi-Page Labels

Fix-a-Form, multi-page labels are the ideal solutions on your packaging challenge, whether you face product information restrictions due to limited space or problems of executing your promotional campaign.

Pharmaceutical, animal health, car care, DIY, toiletry and food and drink markets all regularly use Fix-a-Form to communicate on-pack. Their application often includes multi-lingual instructions, Braille and product information to help consumers know more about the product and to meet packaging regulations. Money-off coupons, scratch off cards, recipe guides and unique numbering are also frequently used to enhance on-shelf impact and influence decision making in store.
